South-Carolina GAZETTE.

THE

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1772.

AS my preſent State of Health will not admit of my continuing the PRINTING BUSINESS any longer, and I propoſe to decline it on the 1ſt Day of May next, in Favour of Meſſrs.

Thomas Powell, Edward Hughes, & Co.

with whoſe Abilities and Inclination (to conduct and continue the Publication of this GAZETTE to general Satisfaction, and to do and diſpatch all other Work in every Branch of the Buſineſs) I am perfectly acquainted: So I take this Opportunity to give early Notice thereof; to return my moſt ſincere and hearty Thanks for the generous Support and Encouragement that has been afforded me during the Courſe of Thirty-three Years; and to ſolicit a Continuance of the Public Favour to the ſaid Meſſrs. POWELL, HUGHES, & Co. who I have not the leaſt Doubt will uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to merit it, and are well provided with Materials and Hands——will have the Advantage of an extenſive and well eſtabliſhed Correſpondence——be very punctual in their Publications——regular and exact in inſerting the Prices Current——continue my Marine Liſt——and be particularly careful in circulating the Papers.

If the Whole of my paſt public Conduct has not met with general Approbation, it has been my Misfortune, not the Fault of my Heart: I can truly ſay, that the Public Good has ever been the chief Object of my Views——my private Intereſt has often been ſacrificed to it——and I ſtill do, and ever ſhall, love this County enough, to ſacrifice more. If any of my Friends are kind enough to think I have not here advanced too much, and that I am ſtill entitled to ſome Share of Public Favour, may I flatter myſelf, that they will now give a Proof of it, by promoting the Intereſt of my Succeſſors?

March 26, 1772. PETER TIMOTHY.

GEORGE SHED, Commiſſary-General.

LONDON, DECEMBER 12.

A Correſpondent ſays, that when Capt. Stott arrived in London from Falkland Iſland, neither of the Secretaries of State were in a condition to preſent him to his Majeſty; one of them being laid up with the gout, the other having two black eyes; he was therefore under a neceſſity of waving ceremonials, and obtained a no leſs gracious than ſatisfactory audience, tho' not agreeable to the common forms.

The accident Lord Suffolk met with, of thruſting his head through the front glaſs of his chariot has, we hear, been attended with ſuch diſagreeable conſequences, as at leaſt to diſqualify him for public appearance for ſome time.

General Paoli will ſpeedily return to Corſica, in conſequence of a plan he has laid for the recovery of his country from the French.

The Rev. Mr. Stevens, who married the Duke of Cumberland on the 2d of October laſt, had a ſalary of 100l. per annum ſettled upon him immediately after the ceremony.

The Dutcheſs of Cumberland has written a very affecting letter to a great and amiable Lady, deſiring an interview, that ſhe may have a better opportunity of diſcloſing her mind upon the ſubject of her late marriage.

Yeſterday after the breaking up of the Levee at St. James's, the Right Hon. the Earl of Bute had a conference with his Majeſty.

It is impoſſible (ſays a Letter from Paris) to expreſs the ardour with which the artificers continue to work, not only at Breſt, Rochfort, Toulon and Dunkirk, but in all the Dock-Yards of the kingdom, to put our Navy on a reſpectable footing. The meaſures that are taken for this purpoſe evidently prove that the Court is meditating ſome blow of the laſt importance.

From Conſtantinople they write, that ſeveral Ruſſian priſoners have been led in triumph thro' the principal ſtreets, in order to leſſen the idea entertained of the ſucceſſes of the Ruſſian army. It is held good policy, even in a deſpotic government, to be well with the people.

The Duke of Cumberland applied to the Lord Chancellor to interfere with his Majeſty for his Highneſs's admiſſion to Court, but the former genteelly excuſed himſelf.

DECEMBER 13.

Lord Hinchinbrook, eldeſt ſon to the Earl of Sandwich, is appointed to ſucceed Lord Stormont as Ambaſſador to the Court of Vienna, as his Lordſhip has obtained leave to return to England in order to ſettle his private affairs.

The Right Hon. the Earl Temple was on Wedneſday at the Levee and Council at St. James's; after which he had a long private conference with his Majeſty.

At a general meeting of the Clergy and other gentlemen, united to obtain relief from ſubſcription to the Thirty-nine Articles, &c. after ſome previous buſineſs, a Committee was propoſed and unanimouſly choſen to conſider of the proper methods of carrying the petition into the Houſe of Commons, and that a fourth general meeting was fixed for the 23d of January next.

A letter from Paris ſays, that the inconſtancy of the multitude in France is equal to any thing ever known in any other country; for that tho' the Duke de Choiſeul was but a few months ago the execration of the people, his carriage is now flocked about (ſince his return from exile) like another Wilkes; and but a few evenings ago, as he was returning from a viſit to one of the Princes of the Blood, his horſes were taken from the carriage, and he was drawn to his palace by the populace.

DECEMBER 14.

A private Board of Admiralty was held on Friday, at which Commodore Hervey preſided. Dr. Solander and Mr. Banks attended, to receive ſome inſtructions for their intended voyage. The above gentlemen are to ſail the beginning of next March. They are to have one ſhip of fifty guns, two frigates, and three ſmaller ſail. They are particularly charged with making diſcoveries on the coaſt of New Holland and New Zealand, which are at preſent almoſt unknown.

ST. JAMES'S, December 13. This day Robert Gunning, Eſq; had the honour to kiſs the King's hand, on being appointed his Majeſty's Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to her Imperial Majeſty the Empreſs of Ruſſia.

ST. JAMES'S, December 14. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to grant the office of a King of Arms and Principal Herald of the parts of Wales, by the name of Glouceſter, unto Thomas Gray Callum, Eſq; Bath King of Arms, in the room of Samuel Horley, Eſq; deceaſed.

DECEMBER 17.

The victory of General Eſſen over the Body of Turkiſh troops, which was poſted over againſt the fortreſs of Giurgewo, and the defeat of the Grand Viair by Major-General Weiſmann, are now fully confirmed, and the advantages, it appears, are greater than were at firſt known. The conſequences of theſe important events are, the loſs of the whole camp and baggage, and more than 165 pieces of artillery: Iron cannons were burſt or ſunk in the river, and the 165 pieces of braſs cannon were carried off by the victors. To theſe ſucceſſes we may add the retaking of the fortreſs of Guirgewo, and the demoliſhing the fortreſſes of Iſakcain, Babadag, Tulezi, Medain, and Hirſkowa. And what is ſtill better, theſe events have obtained for the Ruſſian troops ſafe and quiet winter-quarters, eſpecially as the whole Turkiſh army is now at a great diſtance from the banks of the Danube.

Letters from Warſaw adviſe, that Marſhal Pulawſki has been beaten by Col. Lange, who has ſet a price of 12,000 ducats upon his head.

Col. Luttrell is in Ireland. He got the leaf of the Iriſh Almanacks cancelled, in which his name was inſerted as Member for Mideleſex, in order to have the words added, "brother-in-law to his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland."

The Empreſs Queen of Hungary has inſtituted an honourable order for her ladies of diſtinction, called the Starry Croſs, to which order ſhe has lately promoted thirty ladies.

We are told that one clerk in the Secretary of State's Office, by having the firſt intelligence of Captain Stott's arrival, cleared in the Alley no leſs than thirty thouſand pounds in a few hours.

We hear that a noble Lord, who lately died at Florence, has bequeathed all his valuable manuſcripts, which conſiſt in various obſervations on the manners and cuſtoms of the Eaſt, with a circumſtantial account of the inſtitutes of the Seraglio of the Grand Signior, to a noble Lord at the head of the Admiralty, to be by him reviſed and publiſhed.

It was Miſs Flood, ſiſter to the Iriſh Patriot of that name, and not an Italian lady, as mentioned lately in the papers, to whom the late Duke of York was married.

Miſs Flood, who is at preſent ſtiled, by her friends and intimate acquaintance, Dutcheſs of York, has been preſſed by the King's friends to marry, accompanied with a promiſe of beſtowing a very lucrative employment on whomſoever ſhe may chuſe to honour with her hand.

Yeſterday a patent paſſed the Great Seal confirming the Duke of Beaufort Cuſtos Rotulorum of the county of Monmouth; and a patent confirming Charles Morgan, Eſq; Cuſtos Rotulorum of the county of Brecknock.

The 20,000l. prize drawn on Monday laſt is the property of Mr. Solomons, a Jew Broker.

DECEMBER 20.

His Majeſty was pleaſed yeſterday to appoint the Right Hon. William Lord Viſcount Chetwynd his Minister Plenipotentiary at Bruſſels.

Yeſterday a Special Licence was taken out in Doctor's Commons for the Marriage of Sir Watkins Williams Wynne, Bart. with Miſs Grenville, daughter of the late George Grenville, Eſq; and niece to Earl Temple.

Orders were on Saturday evening ſent to his Majeſty's Dock-Yards for fitting out with all expedition, one firſt rate, two ſecond rates, and ſome other ſhips of the line; which when ready for ſea, are to ſail for Jamaica to reinforce Admiral Rodney.

It is aſſured that a certain Great Lady, on hearing that her illuſtrious kinſman had entered into the holy ſtate of matrimony, turned to one of her gentlewomen in waiting, and ſaid, "I heartily wiſh he had choſen inſtead of Col. Luttrel's ſiſter, the daughter of Mr. Wilkes, becauſe he would then have gained largely by his change of condition---an accompliſhed girl, and popularity."

It is imagined that the real patriots of Ireland will ſo far avail themſelves of the example the buſtling ſpirits have ſet them, with reſpect to the reduction of penſioners, as to tear off that clog on their country, nor ſuffer it to be the refuge of ſycophants, panders, kept-miſtreſſes, &c. Neither can there be any doubt but that the ſame power which operated in a ſingle inſtance, will, if properly exerted, extend to the final diſſolution of the liſt.

A Correſpondent obſerves, that Falkland Iſlands have coſt us no leſs than Five Millions of Money; beſides the additional weight of 40,000 ſeamen, which are to be kept in pay during the bleſſed period of an imperfect peace. But, adds this gentleman, however honourable or eſſential it may be for this country to have the navy in a reſpectable condition, it was ſurely never intended that affairs between us and Spain ſhould have terminated in the manner they have done, as the Engliſh have been ſeldom or ever ſatisfied with gaining a loſs.

Advice to the Married of both Sexes.—Archbiſhop Cranmer had a niece whom he married to a gentleman every way her equal: The wedding day was ſolemnized with great pomp and ſplendor; the next morning the good Archbiſhop went into their bed-chamber and told them, he had a preſent to make them; they were impatient to ſee what it was he held under his robe; the huſband thought it ſome grant of lands, or employment of honour; the wife a rich diamond necklace, or other precious ornament. The Archbiſhop perſiſted in concealing his preſent, till they both promiſed him never to wear it at the ſame time, and then preſented them with a Fool's Cap.

DUBLIN, December 10. Sunday a certain Curate of this city took his text from the following words: "I have learned, in whatſoever ſtate I am, therewith to be content." One of the congregation cried aloud, "That's a lye, for I am ſure you wiſh for a Biſhoprick."

December 14. There never was, in the memory of the oldeſt man now living, ſo much diſtreſs in this kingdom as at the preſent time, by the dearneſs of proviſions, loſs of trade, credit, and manufactures, and increaſe of taxes.

Dec. 20. A report was received from the Committee appointed to take into conſideration the riots of the people who call themſelves Hearts of Steel. The cauſes of theſe riſings were alledged to be an unlawful deſire of ſome inhabitants of the county of Antrim, to lower rents and tithes to the proportion they thought proper, and in conſequence thereof aſſociations had been formed, and many outrages and murders committed.

LONDON, DECEMBER 21.

A letter from Dublin, dated December 9, ſays, "The Court party's intention of introducing a Land-Tax in Ireland is looked upon by the oppoſite party, &c. as totally inconſiſtent with the intereſts of this country. In conſequence of which, the counties of Cork, Clare, Antrim, Sligo, Meath, Waterford, &c. have addreſſed their conſtituents to oppoſe any bill which may be brought into Parliament tending to levy a land-tax in this country."

A Correſpondent ſays, that Lord Suffolk has had a hint to reſign; for that however eligible he might be to office, if only blind of one eye, a total privation of ſight is, what the Engliſh never can tolerate, though for ever ſo ſhort a period.

It is expected that Meſſrs. Banks and Solander, in their next voyage to the South Seas, will be ordered to proceed by the North Weſt paſſage, the Spaniſh Ambaſſador having peremptorily declared to our Miniſtry, that his maſter will not ſuffer them to paſs by Falkland Iſland.

It is ſaid that the ſalary of the Supervifors, which the Eaſt-India Company are about ſending to Bengal, will be 12000 l. per Annum each, which with the other advantages they will have, will make their places worth 60000 l. per Annum each; had it not been for theſe great advantages no proper Supervifors could be had, the laſt were to have had about 12000 l. per Annum each.

The reaſon why his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Brunſwick did not accompany his Conſort to this kingdom, was owing to ſome very important diſpatches received from his Pruſſian Majeſty.

A Correſpondent ſays, ſo fond is the little Colonel of viſiting his relations, that the moment he heard of the arrival of the Princeſs of Brunſwick in England, he went to welcome her, but that her Serene Highneſs refuſed to ſee him.

It is ſaid, that the Vice-Roy of a neighbouring kingdom charges the Premier of a ſiſter kingdom with being the cauſe of his Excellency's loſing his majority in the national ſenate of the former.

If Earl Gower ſhould be appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Lord Viſcount Weymouth will ſucceed his Lordſhip as Preſident of the Privy Council.

It is ſaid that a diſcovery of a Dutcheſs of York, which ſeems to gain much credit, has created a great conſternation among the Luttrels, and damps the hopes which the account of the Dutcheſs of Cumberland's pregnancy had given to that aſpiring family.

It is ſaid that a certain unpopular and odious family have employed ſome hireling pens to draw off the attention of the public from the true conſideration of a late marriage, by repreſenting thoſe who condemn it, as enemies to the freedom of matrimony, leſſening the conſequence of the Engliſh ladies, and wiſhing to increaſe the too abſolute prerogative of the crown, and the power of the Peerage, in hopes of making the ſupport of this unpopular match a common cauſe among the friends of liberty.

A great puſh, it is ſaid, will be made for the diſſolution of a late marriage, notwithſtanding the firſt lawyers in the kingdom have pronounced in favour of its validity: However we have had certain proof that a Houſe of Commons can do what they pleaſe with this country, for an example of which we need not look farther back than the Middleſex election.

Sir Watkin William Wynne has ſent orders for opening two public houſes at Oſweſtry for three days, on occaſion of his enſuing nuptials.

Orders are ſent to Scotland to raiſe immediately a number of men for his Majeſty's ſervice, who are to be ſent abroad, but to what part is not known.

VIENNA, December 3. A report prevails this moment, that the Grand Seignor is dead, at Conſtantinople, of the conſequences of a natural ſickneſs.

LONDON, DECEMBER 23.

The laſt advices from Warſaw inform us, that the enterpriſing Koſinſki, who led the late attack upon the King's life, has not been yet delivered up to the marſhal of the Crown, purſuant to the requiſition of the ſenate; his Majeſty attentive to his royal word, pledged for the ſafety of the Aſſaſſin, is determined to adhere with good faith to his engagements, and, in oppoſition to the preſſing inſtances of his nobles, and the cry of a whole people, peremptorily refuſes to ſurrender this unhappy penitent (to whom he owes his life) into the hands of public Juſtice. The generous firmneſs and benevolence of the King's mind on this occaſion cannot be ſufficiently praiſed; he not only pardons and protects the wretch who raiſed his hand againſt his life, but is actually taking meaſures for his future ſecurity and ſupport. In Poland his life will be in hourly danger, and the diſtracted ſtate of the King's finances will not permit him to indulge his wiſh of granting him an honourable Stipend upon which he might ſpend the remainder of his days in ſome foreign country. In this ſituation of things, application has been made to our Miniſtry by Mr. Mitchell, the Poliſh Reſident; and they having adviſed the King to afford Koſinſki an Aſylum and a comfortable ſupport, till his own Sovereign ſhall be in a capacity to provide for him, his Majeſty has (with his wonted benignity) aſſigned him a penſion of 500l. per Annom, for three lives, upon the Iriſh eſtabliſhment.

Apartments are fitting up in Somerſet Houſe, with all poſſible expedition, for the reception of Koſinſki, who is hourly expected.

It is certain that the Duke of Glouceſter lodged by accident in the ſame hotel with the Pretender, in a city in Italy; but had only a tranſient view of that adventurer's perſon.

WARSAW, November 30. The famine is ſo great at Teniec, that according to the report of deſerters, ſix or ſeven of the gariſon die daily for want of bread.

HAMBURGH, December 10. Letters from the Mountains of Saxony bring an account, that a famine rages there which daily carries off great numbers of people.

LONDON, DECEMBER 26.

A Letter from on board Achilles, dated Kingſton, Jamaica, Oct. 10, ſays, "We are juſt returned from a Cruiſe to Charthagena, where we have been demanding priſoners; but the Spaniards will not deliver them up"—a mere Farce!

It is ſaid that ſeveral Engines are at work to make the Duke of Cumberland's Marriage a popular Cauſe, and that an active Perſon among the Patriots is to make a Motion on the 21ſt of next Month, in a certain Houſe, to addreſs his Majeſty upon the Marriage of his Brothers.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, Dec. 11.

"The Duke of Cumberland's Marriage with a Subject of an antient Family in this Kingdom hath made him ſo popular her, that an Addreſs of Congratulation will be moved in the Houſe of Commons, and carried by a great Majority; there are about 30 Members, who voted with the Court in the laſt Diviſion, who will leave them in this Queſtion, which will be followed by reducing the Penſions ſo much complained of, and out of the Savings thereby made, they will grant a Revenue to his R. H. of 10,000l. a Year, to make him independent of the Thane and his Hireling Miniſtry."

The Carlton-Houſe Junto give great Credit to Alderman Harley, for the Succeſs his Declaration that he ſaw Mr. Wilkes come out of the French Ambaſſador's Houſe at Seven in the Morning, has met with; although Mr. Harley's Aſſertion has reached every Corner of the Kingdom, his Confuſion upon being convicted of ſo groſs a Falſehood has ſcarce penetrated beyond the Confines of the City.

There is now living, at Shooter's-Hill, one Dent and his Wife, whoſe Ages put togather, make 215, the Man being 109, and the Woman 106; they have been married 89 Years.

DECEMBER 28.

The Earl of Shelburne was on Wedneſday at court, and had the honour of a conference with his Majeſty.

The Earl of Shelburne was charged with ſome private letters from his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter to his Majeſty, and to Lady Waldegrave, which he delivered on Wedneſday.

The Eaſt-India Company has offered Mr. Wedderburne, Solicitor-General to his Majeſty, 14000 l. per annum to go for three years as one of their Supervifors to India; the commiſſion of the Supervifors extending not only to the redreſs of grievances and oppreſſions, ſo much complained of in that country, but alſo to the eſtabliſhment of a civil government in their provinces. This propoſal Mr. Wedderburne has rejected.

An act will paſs at the next meeting of parliament for the coinage of Seven Shilling pieces.

There is now living in Pepper-ſtreet, Southwark, one John Piney, who for many years has been employed as a carman: he is above one Hundred years old, has been married to eight wives, who bore him thirty-ſeven ſons and nine daughters, the youngeſt of whom is now about twenty years old.

On Tueſday evening a little deformed girl, about ſixteen years of age, who had been admitted into the hoſpital the day before, to all appearance dreadfully afflicted with the ſtone and gravel, was ſafely delivered alone of a fine boy, to the great aſtoniſhment of the other patients.

JANUARY 1.

It is well known to Lord North, that we annually export one hundred and twenty thouſand hogſheads of tobacco, and that there is a drawback of the whole duty upon this capital article of commerce, when exported. Were the parliament, this year, to lay only a duty of one penny per pound upon all tobaccoes exported, it would raiſe a clear revenue to the goverment, to the annual amount of at leaſt five hundred thouſand pounds ſterling. Does not this hint merit the attention of the legiſlature, more eſpecially as it is a matter of public notoriety, that the Court of Verſailles, by buying only a fifth part of our export tobaccoes at ſo cheap a rate, are enabled to raiſe a tax upon the ſubjects of France in this ſingle article, to the yearly amount of three millions ſterling?

There was a Cabinet Council held on Monday night, at the Queen's Palace, at which the Earl of Shelburne was preſent.

JANUARY 2.

Orders are given from the Treaſury-office for 30,000l. to be iſſued to make ſome alterations and additions in his Majeſty's Royal Hoſpital at Greenwich.

Friday Mr. Mariner, bookſeller, in Covent garden, was releaſed from his impriſonment in the King's-Bench. About ten months ſince Mr. Mariner was had up by information before Lord Chief-Juſtice Mansfield, and ſentenced to be impriſoned twelve months. His offence was for ſelling two numbers of a paper called The Whiſperer. He petitioned his Majeſty for a releaſe, who has granted him his pardon.

A patent is ſoliciting to enable Mr. Calvert, natural ſon, and heir by will, of the late Lord Baltimore, to aſſume the title with perpetuity to his heirs male.

A ſpecies of counterfeit quarter guineas are now very current. They are a copper gilt, near as thick as a half guinea, pretty rough, and a very pale colour, and bear the reſemblance of the die in 1762.

The following plan is adopted by the Cabinet for the attention of Parliament, in respect to the Duke of C——d's marriage.—The marriage to hold good, but the issue to be debarred succeeding to the Crown. An addition to be made to the Duke's present income, and a bill to be brought in to prevent, in future, branches of the Royal Family marrying without consent of Parliament.

On Thursday the Hon. Mr. Fitzherbert, one of the Lords of the Treasury, after having taken an airing on horseback, took the opportunity of hanging himself in his stables.

It is remarkable that the marriage of the Blood Royal into private families has been generally fatal to the inferior side.—Rivers, Grey, and Vaughan were beheaded at Pomfret, by order of King Richard the Third, merely for being the relations of Queen Elizabeth Woodville.—The Protector Somerset underwent the same fate in the reign of his nephew, Edward the Sixth.—And Clarendon was banished in Charles the Second's time, chiefly thro' the enmity of the great Lords, who could not endure him after the marriage of his daughter with the Duke of York.

JANUARY 4.

A gentleman reading the news-paper the other day in a coffee-house, pshaw! cries he, one reads nothing but letters and paragraphs about the foolish Duke and his wanton wife; I am most heartily sick of this ridiculous marriage. I do not know what you are, replies a by-stander, but the Duke can tell you of one that is.

"Dear BESS, We have lost a good subject, and you a kind husband. Take comfort in God and us. E. R."

JANUARY 7.

Yesterday morning about half past nine o'clock a powder-mill at Moulsey in Surry blew up; the explosion was so great as to shake the houses in different parts of London, and it was supposed to be an earthquake, and the people thought they felt four shocks; which was occasioned by different warehouses where the gunpowder was lodged blowing up one after another.

Sunday as his Majesty was going to St. James's he had a paper put into his hand, by a well dressed man, on which was wrote the following Text of Scripture: First go and be reconciled to thy Brother, and then come and offer thy Gift.

The present military establishment of the East-India Company in the East-Indies, is said to cost the annual sum of 150,000 l.

JANUARY 9.

The Lords of the Admiralty, it is said, are determined to adopt the Duke of Bedford's regulation, with respect to pursers, and will not for the future advance any man to that employment who has not served as steward on board the fleet, with an irreproacheable character.

It is currently reported, that the Duke of Cumberland was entrapped into wedlock by the following method: The Duke was pouring forth his amorous couplets to the admired widow in his usual way, out of Prior's Henry and Emma, and concluded with those four remarkable lines, viz.

Hear, mighty Jove! and conscious Venus hear!
And you, bright Maid! believe me whilst I swear!
No Time, no Change, no future Flames shall move,
The well-plac'd Basis of my constant Love.

The artful Widow appeared quite unmoved at his amorous heroics, and then uttered the following Sternhold and Hopkins's Couplets:

Oh, rather let our humbler Curate hear;
Let faithful Crape be Witness while you swear.
Instead of Goddess, call me Dove and Honey!
Swear to be ever mine in Matrimony.
Take me for better, or, perchance, for worse;
For richer or for poorer, without Purse;
In Sickness and in Health, to love and cherish,
Till, like all other Vanities, we perish:
Then let the holy Ring our true Hearts join,
And, with your princely Body, worship mine;
Swear with your worldly Goods you'll me endow,
And you will conquer with this humbled Vow.

The enamoured youth swore he liked the poetry—it was more excellent than Prior's—he would get them by heart—and when he could repeat them, the worthy Curate, her friend, should hear him repeat—and in a week—this couple were married.

JANUARY 11.

A Council is summoned for Wednesday next, when it is said the Speech will be considered, and finally settled.

It is assured that a certain Lady, whose depositions in the Grosvenor cause have cut such a remorkable figure, is at this time pregnant by her own postilion.

The celebrated Irish Nobleman, who has so condescendingly avowed a consanguinity with Madame de Barre, has absolutely had a pension settled on him of 50000 livres by the Royal Enamorato.

A Correspondent assures us, that Lord Bute pays his respects at Carlton-House as usual; to which he adds, that it would be better perhaps for his Lordship, at least for his country, if he went to the Highlands of Scotland and spent the remainder of his days there in peace and quietness, far removed from state affairs.

We are informed that Lord Mansfield will continue in office during the next sessions of parliament, if his health will permit him, at the request of a Great Personage.

Letters from Paris say, that the most vigourous measures are taking for cleaning the provinces, as well as the capital, of deserters, vagabonds and loose persons of both sexes, who are to be sent to the colonies at the expence of the crown.

We are authorized to assure the public, that the most essential affairs of state are intended to be laid before the British Parliament this sessions for consideration.

The propositions are merely national; such as maintaining the dignity of the crown at home and abroad with much superior lustre and weight; providing for the freedom, wealth, and real happiness of the subjects, and easing them of the enormous heavy weight of taxes they labour under.

On three Grub-Street Authors attacking Mr. Wilkes.

HAVE you not in an evening seen,
The moon unclouded and serene,
Its milder light and beams display,
And rival all the charms of day?
When yielding curs their voice unite
Against the lovely Queen of night;
While she majestick moves along,
Regardless of their howling song:
Their mean attack is weak and vain,
And horrid their infernal strain;
Besides, no mortal but must smile,
To see these Vipers gnaw a file;
And, notwithstanding all their ire,
Sink into nothing and expire.

We hear the Speech intended to be delivered at the opening of next Session, is penned by Sawney Wedderburne.

HARTFORD, in CONNECTICUT, March 3.

WE have heard that the following bridges were swept away by the late flood, viz. The large bridge at Windsor, with one at Poquonnock, one at Suffrage, and one at Farmington, all bridges of great consequence to the public, together with almost all the bridges of less importance on Farmington river.

Last Friday se'nnight there was the greatest freshes at Norwich Landing that has been known for thirty years past, occasioned by a sudden thaw and the breaking up of Shetucket river. The rise of the water was so sudden that there was not time to secure but a small part of the goods which were exposed——Upwards of 5000 bushels of salt, a large quantity of sugars and other West-India goods, also of European goods to a considerable amount are lost: Add to the loss the Town has sustained in bridges this season, and it is said the town has suffered about three thousand five hundred pounds damage.
